POLITICAL NEWS AND GOSSIP

A Prohibition Candidate Talks About the Campaign.

GENERAL BUTLER SPEAKS IN MICHIGAN

Vermont Goes Republican by the Usual Majority—Proceedings of State Conventions—Political Points

CHICAGO Sept 2—William Daniels candidate for vice president on the prohibition ticket arrived here to-day to stump the state. "In Baltimore" said Mr Daniels "we are to have a great ratification meeting, and set a plan on foot for a thorough organization of the state in the interest of the prohibition movement. We have nominated an electoral ticket in that state which is superior to that of either the republicans or democrats and will poll a larger vote than ever before in the state and in the United States. St John says our ticket will poll a million votes if not more. I think this estimate a little high. We will however poll an astonishing vote. St. John has gone astonishingly into the campaign, with the purpose of throwing his whole energy toward the organization and enthusiastic work. He is returning home and is making speeches as he goes. His intention is to invade the south and endeavor to bring out the dormant prohibition element of that part of the country then to come around by way of New England and again through the northwest. I shall stump New York Connecticut and Massachusetts and go to Kentucky and Tennessee. The prohibition sentiment in the south is stronger than anybody in the north imagines."

IN THE SOUTH

"The democrats have been claiming that the prohibition movement will detract from the republican strength. So it will in the north and west but it will also split the democratic strength in the south. One who has not traveled south knows the latent sentiment which there exists in favor of our movement. The sentiment is greater in North Carolina, South Carolina Alabama and Georgia than it is in New England but it has not been worked up and directed in the proper channel. It is doubtful whether the people would acknowledge it by voting for our general ticket, but the fact that a favorable sentiment exists is sufficient. In Georgia there are eight counties under prohibitory laws. In South Carolina there are prohibition laws almost throughout the state, and there are ten or fifteen counties under its [illegible] in Alabama. Portions of Mississippi have prohibition, and a large number of districts in Kentucky. In Tennessee we have half the state for prohibition and in Maryland fourteen counties out of twenty three are under temperance. Can the north make a much better showing than that? I think not."

ONCE A REPUBLICAN

"Up to the time I became a prohibitionist," resumed Mr Daniels "I was an ardent republican. Did not the liquor issue exist I would still be a republican, but the republican party has been like the dog in the fable. The animal passing a stream with a bone in its mouth and seeing the reflection of its image on the shining surface made an effort to add the counterfeit to its possessions in which effort it lost the bone it held between its jaws. The republicans had the prohibitionists with them but seeing in the stream the future German vote dropped the prohibitionists to gain the foreign vote. In doing so they have lost both for I have traveled over the country to some extent and I am prepared to say that the German defection from the republican ranks very greatly outweighs the Irish defection from the democratic ranks. The democrats took the alternative of the German or the temperance vote; they concluded the German vote was the greatest, and accepted that. All well and good they are welcome to choice but though the prohibitionists may not this year be able to poll as large a vote as the Germans their future growth if made with as much rapidity as in the past will in a few years exceed immigration from Germany. It has already grown to a size to command the attention of both great parties. One or the other of these parties must disrupt after this election and a new party will be formed. Prohibition will not be its name, but prohibition will be one of the brackets in the corner-stone of the new national structure. The present political affairs is similar in every respect to the time which brought us the republican party."

CLEVELAND AND BLAINE

"A few weeks ago Cleveland's chances were much better; even now they are better than Blaine's but not in as great a degree as before, owing to the attacks made on his personal character. I have always striven to be a Christian and I abhor as a Christian should acts of viciousness but all men are liable to err. If our religious friends will give Mr Cleveland no credit for his life of strictly regular conduct since his little indiscretion they must deny the truth of their dogma that repentance takes away sin. They cannot declare as fallacy the faith which they have always sought to impress. As between Blaine and Cleveland Cleveland is preeminently the man with the best public record and it is public acts and not his private commissions of years long gone by to which the people have to look as an earnest for his intention and ability to faithfully discharge the duties of the high and mighty office of president of the United States."

BUTLER'S MOVEMENTS

He Addresses a Large Audience in Michigan and Appeals to Men of Wealth.

DETROIT Sept 1—General Butler arrived in this city this afternoon from New York. He was met at Essex Center Canada by a committee of twenty members of all parties. He spoke at the Grand Circus park to-night to an audience of nearly 20 000 people. Captain Richard F Trevellick presided. The meeting was disorderly at first owing to defects in the arrangements but very enthusiastic. Butler dwelt at length upon the tariff question and declared in favor of the tariff but wanted it preserved for no other purpose under heaven than for the fostering of American industry. He pronounced against the accumulation of surplus revenue by taxation. Should the people were asked to support the republican and democratic tickets because Lincoln and Jackson were great men. For himself he would not vote for Jackson's boots, stuffed with southern demagogism. He argued against railroad and other corporate monopolies and said that unless the evils that the law fostered ceased in time anarchy would come to the country, ending his speech in these words

PERORATION

"Think of this, men of property. I do not say think of it, laboring men; you have thought of it enough. But I want men of property to think of it. It interests you, it interests your children and those who will come after you. Men say to me 'Why do you (General Butler) an employer and capitalist'—they say 'why do you trouble yourself about those things? How can you be the friend of the laboring man?' Why I say I am the friend of myself am I not? Whatever happens I want to leave my country to my children and my children's children as I received it from my father a free and happy country with a stable government with liberty and equality of rights to all in it because I hope to see that this country is setting the example that the people can govern themselves better than they can be governed by any form of government on earth. This shall be a missionary country to spread the doctrine of equality of right and equality of men. I have some property. I do not want to see it go down in ruin and anarchy which must surely come unless justice is done to the people [applause] and therefore I am here. It can make no difference to me for the short time I can be on earth. It probably may. I hope it will come before I die. But God knows I hope my closing eyes will not look on a distracted divided ruined country. It would add a new terror to death. But to you, to your children and your children's children, age to the world at large it is a question above all other questions which should interest and command the attention and guide the action of intelligent Christian men and women of the country into whose keeping God has given the right and privilege of mankind." [Tremendous applause.]

Butler left to-night for Grand Rapids where he speaks to-morrow. He will be at Muskegon in the evening and at Chicago Wednesday. He had a consultation here with the state central committee of the national party and it is said will decide to-morrow whether he will put $10 000 into the campaign in this state or not.

STATE CONVENTIONS

Kansas Prohibitionists Decide not to Put out a State Ticket.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Sept 2—The prohibition state convention met in this city to-day. About 100 delegates were present with credentials, and of this number about fifty were permitted to participate as members of the convention, the remainder being refused because they would not pledge themselves to support St. John for president. Presidential electors were nominated. It was moved to nominate a state ticket, with John A. Martin at the head, but the motion was lost. It was then moved to turn the matter of the state ticket over to the state committee, to report in October—lost. It was then moved that the convention endorse John A. Martin republican candidate for governor—lost. A resolution was then passed as follows

Resolved, That we believe it to be to our best interest to waive our power of nominating state officers, and leave the matter to each member to act individually, and that we use our best endeavor to secure the election of the national prohibition ticket.

The convention adopted the following platform

Whereas It is customary for a party organization in appealing to the people for their support to announce the principles which they espouse and maintain; therefore

Resolved First, that we regard the constitutional and statutory prohibition of the liquor traffic both in the state and nation as the most vital and important political issue of the present time.

Second—We pledge ourselves and party to use our utmost endeavors to secure the election to office of men who believe in prohibition as a principle and who will use their official power for its adoption and enforcement.

Third—We propose to modify and amend the prohibitory law of our state so as to render its enforcement throughout more effective and certain.

Fourth—We insist that the government should use its constitutional power to abolish polygamy and the traffic in intoxicating liquors in the territories and the district of Columbia; that it should issue no revenue permits for the sale of such liquors and should prohibit inter-state traffic in the same.

Fifth—We believe in civil service reform and that capacity and honesty and not party ties or personal favoritism should govern the selections of men for all offices. We believe the postmasters and postmistresses of the country should be chosen by the people whom they serve; that the United States senators should be elected by the people of the state, and that the president and vice president should be elected by a popular vote of the United States.

Sixth—We believe that women have the same right to vote as men. We are opposed to monopoly of every form and character managed by the few to the detriment of the many; to grants of public lands to corporations putting them beyond the reach of actual settlers; to the distribution of government offices by government officials; to legislation that discriminates in favor of one section of the country or one class of citizens to the disadvantage of another and to any system of taxation that increases the costs of the necessities of life. We are therefore in favor of raising the revenue by taxing the luxuries and superfluities of life thus lessening heavy burdens on those most able to bear them. We favor cheap postage, a sound national currency and we regard the recent decision of the United States supreme court on the legal tender acts as the final settlement of the currency question.

CONNECTICUT DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

HARTFORD Sept —The state democratic convention met this morning. Governor Waller was renominated by acclamation. Joseph Plunkett was nominated for comptroller. A delegate offered a resolution declaring that the wages of labor should be exempt from foreign attachment. De Forest of Bridgeport and Mr Burr opposed this on the ground that the provision in the platform that wages should be paid weekly sufficiently covered the question. Ex Lieutenant Governor Sykes also opposed the resolution. A proposition to exempt wages to the amount of $50 from attachment was finally presented and voted down. Cheers were then given for Cleveland and Hendricks and the convention adjourned.

NEW HAMPSHIRE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

CONCORD N H Sept 2—The republican state convention met this morning. Mr Greene was made chairman and the Hon. Moody Currier was nominated for governor.

THE ELECTIONS

Vermont Goes Republican by the Customary Majority

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION Vt Sept 2—Indications are that Pingree's majority for governor will be less than [illegible] 000.

Greenbackers and independents both have tickets. The independent ticket is identical with the republican except governor and lieutenant governor. Besides the state ticket, two members of congress and members of the legislature were to be elected. The new legislature will elect a successor to Senator Morrill.

THE ELECTION IN ARKANSAS

LITTLE ROCK Sept —To-night's returns do not change the general result of the election already telegraphed. The vote in this (Pulaski) county is partially counted and is very close. Republicans claim a small majority for county officers but the claim is not admitted by the democrats. An official count must decide.

THE POST ON THE VERMONT ELECTION

NEW YORK Sept 2—[Special.]—The Post says editorially: We expect a noisy republican demonstration over the Vermont election to-night. The republican candidate for governor is very popular and there is no opposition to him within his party. Even republicans who will vote against Blaine in November will vote their party ticket. But the demonstration over Vermont will be nothing as compared with that when Maine has voted next week. The most elaborate and intricate preparations have been made for an uproar. The state has been canvassed as never before for money. Speakers, torchlights and brass bands have been inundating the state for a week. All of Blaine's estimates of the probable republican majority are kept low in order that when the votes are counted every Blaine editor in the country may be fairly lifted off his feet.

THE BLAINE LIBEL SUIT

INDIANAPOLIS Sept 2—Argument was heard to-day in the United States district court, Judge Woods presiding, on the demurrer filed by the Sentinel company to the complaint of James G. Blaine charging libel. Attorneys for the defense contended first that the description of Blaine in the alleged libelous publication was not sufficiently specific and might have referred to some other Blaine; second that the publication was in the nature of an inquiry; third that the article was not libelous in itself and Blaine in order to recover must sue for special damages. The attorneys for Blaine replied briefly and Judge Woods took the matter under advisement. It is not known when a decision will be given.

THE TILDEN RESOLUTIONS

NEW YORK Sept 2—The committee appointed to present Tilden the Chicago convention resolutions meet to-morrow to decide on the method of officially informing Tilden of the convention's action. It is probable that in compliance with Tilden's wish they will be sent by mail.

NEW YORK Sept 2—[Special.]—It was said at the democratic national headquarters last night that the visit of prominent democrats to Greystone to-morrow has been abandoned as Tilden has intimated that he would prefer to have the Chicago convention's resolutions presented by letter.

ACCIDENTS

THE SINKING OF THE TALLAPOOSA

BOSTON Sept 2—The naval court of inquiry into the circumstances attending the sinking of the Tallapoosa opened this afternoon at the navy yard. The first witness was Captain F. H. Reed of the schooner Lowell. He testified that he had been a mariner since 18[illegible]; was master of the schooner James S Lowell when she was in collision with and sunk the Tallapoosa; the Lowell was making about nine knots; the lookout sang out "Light ho" and reported a red and white light half a point on the port bow; he ordered the man at the wheel to keep her straight; the collision occurred ten or fifteen minutes after the steamer's lights were reported; there was no change in the course of the schooner after the steamer's lights were reported until he saw a collision was inevitable; then a green light was reported and he ordered the helm hard down, but by the time the words were out the vessels struck; after the collision he supposed his vessel was going to sink and rushed into the cabin, got his family and put them into a boat and ordered two men into the boat to take care of them and went forward to examine the damage; ordered the men to sound the pumps and found that he could keep his vessel free; he then sent a boat to pick up some of the Tallapoosa's crew in the water. Captain Reed said that he had no certificate or license as master. The steamer must have put her helm to starboard to have caused the collision.

A CONGRESSMAN HURT

WASHINGTON Sept 2—Representative Casey Young of Memphis arrived here yesterday and to-day while driving near the capitol his buggy broke down, frightening his horse which ran away dragging him some distance. No bones were broken but Young's bruises were sufficient to confine him to the house for the present under a physician's care.

SPORTING NOTES

TEEMER DEFEATS HOSMER

LAWRENCE Mass Sept. 2—Teemer defeated Hosmer in the three mile sculling race at Haggett's pond to-day, by a length and a half.

LOWELL Mass Sept 2—The three mile handicap race between John Teemer of McKeesport Pa and George H. Hosmer of Boston was rowed this afternoon on Haggett's pond and over a course divided in stretches of three quarters of a mile each. A handicap of five seconds start was given Hosmer. There were no stakes, the agreement being to divide the gate money two thirds to the winner and one third to the loser. There was a large attendance of oarsmen and sporting men. The weather was very propitious. It was nearly 4 o'clock when the oarsmen drew into line for the word. It lacked one minute and thirty eight seconds of 4 when the referee gave the word "go" to Hosmer and five seconds later when Teemer started. Hosmer took the water badly. By the time Teemer was under way there were two lengths of clear water between the boats. Hosmer started with thirty two strokes to the minute to Teemer's thirty. Both men steered wildly at first but Teemer rapidly overhauled his opponent and turned the first stake on even terms. Then Teemer began steadily to pull away from Hosmer who already showed signs of weariness. The mile and a half stake was turned by Teemer in [illegible] with Hosmer four lengths behind. Here Hosmer in turning too short, got foul of an anchor line of the stake boat but Teemer waited for him to get clear. On the third quarter Teemer increased his lead and turned the last stake nearly ten lengths ahead. Then Hosmer spurted and nearly closed the gap but when a quarter of a mile from the finish Teemer also spurted forcing his boat ahead and taking him across the line winner by one length in 0:48. Hosmer was three seconds slower.

FAILURES

A RECEIVER APPOINTED

BUFFALO Sept 2—A motion was made in the supreme court before Judge Childs to-day for a receiver for the Burrows estate a large part of which was dissipated by President Warner of the Albion National bank who was entrusted with its management. The motion was made by the attorney of Eliza Glenn, a creditor of the estate who has begun action against Louisa C Burrows as administratrix and others as executors. Counsel for the executors opposed any change of management but suggested that if a change be deemed necessary that Charles Moore be appointed. Judge Childs said he was very clearly of the opinion that the supreme court should take charge of these affairs. The dissipation of this large estate was due largely to the executors in surrendering the management to one man. He should grant the order appointing a receiver and counsel might consult and agree upon somebody for the important place and also as to the amount of bonds required. Charles H. Moore was appointed receiver and qualified with bonds of $100 000.

ATTACHMENTS TAKEN OUT

CHICAGO Sept 2—Attachments amounting to $25 000 were taken out against the Bankers and Merchants telegraph company in various courts here to-day by contractors to whom the company is indebted for work done.

DIRECTOR AND RECEIVER

NEW YORK Sept 2—Judge Donohue has appointed Charles J Osborne one of the directors and receiver of Wall Street bank. He has also ordered a dividend of 6 per cent to be paid to depositors.

THE TURF

JAY EYE SEE AT MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS Sept 2—At the Minneapolis fair this afternoon Jay Eye See attempted to beat his record of [illegible] at Narragansett park. The gelding was in good form but the track was very cuppy and [illegible] the mile was trotted with [illegible] in 2:1[illegible], which under all adverse circumstances is regarded as a remarkably fine performance. Jay Eye See will repeat the attempt to-morrow.

Master of Theology

SOMERSET Ohio Sept —The pope conferred the degree of master of theology on Father Higgins of St Joseph's college, the first person in this country thus honored.

Lost Faith in Physicians.—There are innumerable instances where cures have been effected by SCOVILLE'S SARSAPARILLA OR BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP for all diseases of the blood when they had been given over by their physicians. It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and as it is prepared with the greatest care, as a specific for certain diseases, it is no wonder that it should be more effectual than hastily written and carelessly prepared prescriptions. Take this medicine for all disorders arising from impure blood. It is endorsed by leading professional men.

Plea of the Oklahoma Boomers

WASHINGTON Sept —J A Smith counsel for Payne and the Oklahoma invaders to-day filed a document addressed to Attorney General Brewster calling attention to an act of congress approved January [illegible] 1883 which it is claimed has been overlooked or defied in the proceedings against Payne and his associates. The act provides for [illegible] of the United States court at Wichita Kansas and it is contended by counsel for Payne that the judicial authority of that court extends over the territory in which Payne [illegible]. The document claims that Payne should have been arraigned at Wichita. It also sets forth that Payne and his followers are anxious for a speedy trial but that they are held as prisoners and deprived of the privilege of the habeas corpus at the instance of a rich cattle corporation whose interests they have threatened by attempting to settle the country. The attorney general is urged to direct his subordinates to see that these men have all the legal rights to which they are entitled.

A letter received here from Payne says that himself and associates are kept in the Cherokee country across the river from Fort Smith to prevent the possibility of a habeas corpus. He says they could have reached Fort Smith by rail in one day but that would have taken them through judicial territory wherein they could have appealed for writs of habeas corpus and it was the determination of the authorities to deny them any such privileges.

The Greely Horror

WASHINGTON Sept 2—Army officials who recently read a portion of the diaries of the Greely party said to-day that they reveal a more serious condition of affairs than the army vote will admit. It seems that from the beginning of the expedition there were disputes between members of the party. These led to a division which existed at the time of the rescue. When found one of these parties was in charge of Sergeant Long and the other was in charge of Sergeant Brainard and they were living separately in their tents. Greely while an invalid and during the last few months of Arctic life was in the party headed by Brainard who cared for him daily. The diaries show that the stealing of rations was a common practice. One says Dr Pavy stole them when every opportunity offered and that he sometimes stole such as were apportioned to individual members of the party. When the men were sent to shoot birds and were successful the diaries say not all the birds killed were taken to camp but some were concealed in the snow for the future use of the hunters. No mention is made of cannibalism in the portions of the diaries that have been read and the officers who have seen them refuse to say whether or not any other member of the party than private Henry is reported to have been shot. Army officials say the contents of the diaries will not be made public until an investigation is ordered.

Relief for the Starving Piegans

WASHINGTON Sept 2—Indian Commissioner Price has taken measures for the immediate relief of the starving Piegan Indians at Blackfoot agency in Montana. The following telegram was sent to Governor Crosby of Montana to-day

In answer to your telegram to the secretary I have to inform you that I have ordered additional supplies to Blackfoot agency and ordered the agent to make them last until March. But next [illegible] I hope congress will have made provisions for additional supplies. H H PRICE

To secure money necessary for the purchase of these supplies the commissioner has been forced to have recourse to the provision of the law allowing him to apply to the relief of distressed Indians of one tribe any money that may remain unexpended of the surplus appropriated for the maintenance of another tribe. Under this law however it was necessary to secure the approval of the president before the money could be so applied and [illegible] for Governor Crosby's [illegible] grain.

Complaint against a Steamship Company

NEW YORK Sept 2—The commissioners of emigration have made a formal complaint against the White Star steamship company [illegible] that [illegible] steerage passengers on the British [illegible] with [illegible] of the British [illegible] some say they will go to Washington to lay the matter before the secretary of the navy.

Shipments of Grain

NEW YORK Sept 2—[Special.]—The Journal of Commerce says: Comparing the shipments of grain by sail and steam for the first six months of this year with the corresponding six months of last there is a decrease this year of about [illegible] bushels, though considering the depression in freights this does not appear to be very great.

The Commercial Bulletin commenting on wheat shipments this year says: In tonnage and the number of vessels America ranks nearly the lowest having carried a total of only [illegible] bushels of grain during the year by two barks the Alumina and the Sunset, one of which was [illegible] British built. Great Britain leads all the other nations though she is in turn completely outstripped in sail tonnage in the matter of grain carrying by Norway and Austria. Only one British sailing vessel carried grain from this port during the first six months of the year. The total exports of grain for six months is over 600 000 bushels."

Private Henry's Remains

LONG ISLAND CITY Sept 2—After consulting with Coroner Levy of New York and the military authorities of Governor's island Coroner Robinson has decided not to take any further steps at present in the direction of exhuming the body of private Charles B Henry member of the Greely Arctic expedition shot for stealing provisions and whose flesh was eaten by his companions. The coroner has written a letter to Miss Dora Buck of Lincoln Neb sister of private Henry informing her that he will [illegible] further in the matter until the consent of the war department is obtained for the exhumation of her brother's body and that she herself must make application, accompanied by proofs of her relationship to the dead man. Application and proofs the coroner says he will present to Colonel Berry at Governor's island if Miss Buck still desires an investigation and sends them to him.

Down with Yellow Fever

NEW YORK Sept 2—The health commissioner of Brooklyn received information to-day that two seamen are lying [illegible] apparently suffering from yellow fever who arrived in the schooner J A Baker from Georgetown South Carolina last week. The sick men were received into the hospital where the doctors are all of the belief that the cases were yellow fever. One of the men died yesterday afternoon and the police have requested the health authorities to place the house from which the seamen were removed under quarantine. The health inspector [illegible] made investigations and says he is convinced that the men are not suffering from yellow fever but from asthenia following pernicious intermittent fever. Another seaman Rudolph Larsen also ill was removed to the marine hospital on Staten Island.

National Engineers Association

BALTIMORE Sept 2—At the session of the National Engineers' Association to-day after recess the report of the special committee on steam boilers and insurance was read. It strongly urged an effort to abolish boiler insurance. The subject was indefinitely postponed. A resolution was adopted recommending subordinate organizations to secure state legislation requiring the inspection of boilers and licensing engineers in charge of boilers that the lives and property of citizens may be protected. The report of the committee on ritual excited a protracted discussion. It was stated that many subordinate organizations objected to the use of the bible in secret work. If the bible was left to the option of organizations that objection could be avoided. The report was recommitted. Adjourned until to-morrow.

A White Man Honored by Indians

SYRACUSE Sept 2—[Special.]—Among the Six Nations Indians the ceremony of receiving white men into their confederation is a matter of great pomp and jubilee. They consider such course an acknowledgment of the superior nobility of the red man. Charles W Hutchinson ex mayor of Utica has been adopted recently into the Seneca tribe. He goes by an unpronounceable name signifying Corn Planter. As the Indians regard maize as their principal article of food and give several corn dances in thanksgiving of that crop the selection of this name implies high honor. Governor Squire of Washington territory accompanied the mayor.

Rag Men Exercised

NEW YORK Sept 2—[Special.] The custom house was visited by successive delegations of rag importers yesterday. There is much consternation in consequence of the order issued by the treasury department Saturday prohibiting the landing of foreign rags in any part of the United States for three months from September 1. The business of importing rags for paper stock is an extensive one in this city. One importer said there were $1 400 000 worth of rags on the way to American ports.

The Exodus from Long Branch

NEW YORK Sept 2—[Special.]—A Long Branch special says: The summer season was practically ended to-day. Most of those having cottages will remain until the latter part of the month. Many will not start until October but the hotel season is over. It has not been successful. Cool weather, heavy rains [illegible] effect. The exodus of families and horses filled all the trains and boats this morning.

A Deplorable Affair

BALTIMORE Sept 2—[Special.]—Mrs James Noyes a young married woman aged 19 while sitting at the window of her residence last evening was terribly frightened by some mischievous boys who threw the body of a dead cat through the window into her lap. Mrs Noyes who was in a delicate condition, was thrown into convulsions and about midnight a child was born which died in a few minutes. Early this morning the mother died.

Heavy Rainfall.

NEW YORK Sept 2—[Special.]—The Journal of Commerce says: "This year is likely to be remarkable for its abundant rainfall. The eight months ending with August gave us 41.40 inches against only 25.24 inches for the same period of 1883 and 26.30 inches for the first eight months of 1882. If the remainder of the year maintains the same increase, this will stand nearly at the head of our column for fifty years."

THE MINERS RIOT

All Quiet at Last Accounts—An Explanation of the Trouble

NEW YORK Sept 2—[Special.]—The situation in the Hocking valley coal region is summarized by a special dispatch. The mines are among the richest in the world. The veins are easily accessible and are nine to thirteen feet in thickness. The miners do not work on their hands and knees or in a bent position but in great chambers. Coal can be taken out by hand drill and blast much cheaper than in other mines. A strong miners union [illegible] demanded that the same scale of prices should be paid in the Hocking mines, notwithstanding these advantages, that are paid in other coal fields and the miners have stubbornly fought every change [illegible] in operation suggested by the operators. The Columbus and Hocking Valley Coal and Iron Company controls operations in all that region. It is a gigantic corporation on a capital of several millions of dollars and is closely allied with the Columbus Hocking Valley and Toledo Railway Company. Recognizing that the veins were admirably adapted for machine drilling the company decided about three months ago that cost what it may they would put machines in the mines. They knew the effect would cause the bitterest fight with their men ever known in the Ohio coal fields. Preparations for it were made from the start.

THE MINERS FOOLED

The first move was to supply the mines in order that machines might be introduced. For this purpose the company issued orders reducing the price of mining from 70 to 60 cents per ton. At once the miners, drivers and laborers, notwithstanding the gravity of their move, went out on a strike. This was what the company wanted and machinery was introduced and got ready for operation before the miners discovered what was being done. Then agencies were opened in several cities for the employment of men to take the place of the strikers and recruits were taken to the mines guarded by Pinkerton's police with Winchester rifles. Then came suits of the company for the ejectment of the miners from their homes. It was starvation or emigration and they became desperate. Then followed an assault on [illegible] and the disastrous consequences which led to the recent riot. Goaded to madness by the prospect before them the people of Ohio cannot but sympathize with them.

IN PENNSYLVANIA

COAL CENTER, Sept 2—The sheriff arrived here last night and will remain to see that ample protection is given all who desire to work. The strikers have made no attempt to intercept any non-union men on their way to work since Saturday and it is thought many will avail themselves of the sheriff's presence to return to the mines. No trouble is anticipated to-day.

COAL CENTER Sept 2—The sheriff and [illegible] called at the camp this afternoon and notified the strikers that he would not permit any interference with men who wanted to work and assured them that as long as they kept within the limits of the law he would not disturb them. The Hungarians who arrived at Courtney yesterday did not go to work to-day. The miners will establish a camp at that point to-morrow and try to persuade the Hungarians to leave the Monongahela valley.

AFFAIRS ABOUT [illegible]

[illegible] Ohio Sept —Everything is quiet here and [illegible]. About 100 strikers moved on [illegible] and fired at [illegible] guard. The fire was promptly returned the strikers [illegible]. No casualties are reported. Three hundred militia reached the valley last night and were placed at Snake Hollow, Sand Town and Long street. The strikers report that seven of their number were wounded in their attack on Long street Sunday night, two fatally. Bridges being threatened a patrol was kept running all night.

ALL QUIET

[illegible] Sept —The situation at the mines to-day is the most quiet of any time since the strike began. No damage to person or property resulted from the attacks of last night. The governor has ordered all militia companies which were being held for moving orders home and for the present, with the exception of Company E of Delaware which will be taken to the vicinity of the mines this afternoon to be used at different points on the railroad.

RAILROAD NOTES

CUTTING PASSENGER RATES

NEW YORK Sept 2—The passenger rate war to the west is regarded by railroad men as [illegible] in rates between trunk lines has [illegible] occurred but the general tendency is toward lower rates. The Wabash St Louis and Pacific railroads [illegible] at $17 against the tariff rate of $[illegible]. How much more of a concession will be [illegible] under pressure of shrewd passenger could not be learned, but some of the [illegible] the situation intimated that $5 25 was not an extreme cut which that company could be induced to make.

NEW YORK Sept 2—[Special.]—At all the trunk line offices the agents declare that rates are maintained strictly according to the tariff but it is known that all except the Pennsylvania pay commissions thus transferring the cutting from their own to the brokers' offices which are doing a thriving business. The Astor house and the scalping offices up town are thronged with travelers. Tickets to Chicago sell for $16 which is $2 [illegible] off the regular rate.

The Tribune this morning says the only thing which restrains open cutting in the regular offices is the determination of the Pennsylvania railway not to deal with scalpers and so long as this policy is held the other trunk lines will not openly cut. The question now is how long can the Pennsylvania stand the competition.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL ASSOCIATION

SARATOGA Sept 2—The transcontinental association comprising railroads west of the Missouri valley concerned in California trade, is holding an executive session at the Grand Union. It will be in session a week or ten days. The object is to regulate rates and place the association on a sound basis.

SARATOGA Sept 2—The sessions of the Transcontinental Association to-day were devoted to awaiting the arrival of members en route. The meeting will probably adjourn to-morrow to meet in Chicago September 15. The interval will be occupied with conferences with connecting and other lines.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR

A MOST REVOLTING CRIME.

ST JOSEPH Sept 2—A special to the Gazette from Union Star Mo tells of a most fearful crime committed in the vicinity of Flag Springs yesterday. Two little girls, children of John H Gatlin aged [illegible] and 9 years were overtaken in the woods by unknown parties and outraged. The ravishers then disemboweled the eldest child afterward shooting her in the head, after which the throat of the youngest child was cut. Lynching will be in order if the parties are caught. The whole country is aroused.

Assessment Increased in San Francisco

[Special.]—The board of equalization having decided to increase the valuation of property in this city the board of supervisors have formally protested. [illegible] opinion of the board is wholly unjustifiable and is unjust and cannot be based upon [illegible] intelligent examination of the assessment [illegible] or an actual cash valuation of property in the city and county. The board goes further and declares that it sees in the proposition a desire to mulct city property as against country property. The finance committee of the board and the financial officers of the city are instructed to appear before the equalization board to present the case for the city.

The Grand Jury Report

[Special.]—The grand jury report [illegible] day is still the chief topic with politicians and officials. In many interested quarters the action of the grand jury is harshly criticised but it is generally approved as able and bold. It is to be regretted that the foreman of the jury has now taken to defend himself and his associates against criticism. In a letter in the Post this evening he makes a foolish display of anger which will be turned to the disadvantage of the jury.

The Sharon Hill Case

Hearing in the case of ex Senator Sharon vs Sarah A Hill in the United States circuit court was continued to-day to October 31. The action is to set aside the alleged marriage contract which forms the basis of the present suit for divorce brought by Miss Hill against Sharon, being tried before Judge Sullivan of the superior court.

MONTANA

Horse Thieves Probably Hanged

HELENA Sept —Major F W Hathaway [illegible] from Fort Maginnis reports that last week on the Missouri river a [illegible] to Benton met five men on a raft and believing them escaping horse thieves took them in charge. At Rocky Point forty miles north of Fort Maginnis the water being too low for the boat to proceed further the prisoners were turned over to men on shore with instructions to deliver them to the sheriff. It has since been ascertained that the men ashore were cowboys and as nothing more has been heard of the prisoners the conclusion is that they were hanged. That section is a cattle range uninhabited except by cowboys who are reticent concerning mortality among horse thieves. [illegible] it is difficult to ascertain the facts as to the prisoners' fate. Jerry D[illegible] [illegible] is known to be one of the [illegible]. The names of the others are unknown.

Indian Outbreak Threatened

HELENA Sept 2—Mail advices report a threatened outbreak of Indians at Poplar River agency northeastern Montana. Six thousand Indians stationed there have been for the past year receiving only half rations. They managed to exist by eating their dogs and killing cattle on the ranges. Stockmen for the protection of their herds withdrew as far as possible from the agency and thus left the Indians with only the rations issued by the government. They are hungry discontented and threaten unless better fed to go on the war path. Major Hartz, commanding at Poplar river believes an outbreak imminent and has called for reinforcements.

Big Fire at Missoula.

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 2—Fire destroyed twenty two buildings at Missoula, M T this morning. Total loss $30 000, insurance $15 000. Warden & Co lose eight buildings valued at $15 000 including the First National bank building. The contents of the bank vault were uninjured. The fire started in Leber's bowling alley and is supposed to be of incendiary origin.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

News Notes from Victoria.

VICTORIA Sept 2—The papers are still discussing Ingersoll's lecture and its effect on religion. The controversy is bitterly personal. James Bell who threw his body, weighing 400 pounds into the gap when the sides of the theater were burst in by the mob has instituted action for $10 000 damages against the Columbian newspaper for calling him an arch infidel. The same gentleman is also preparing a writ for an action to receive a similar sum from the Colonist of this city for attacking his principles.

War has broken out between the provincial tugs and vessels are towed at 50 per cent discount on recent charges.

Crops were slightly damaged by the recent heavy rains.

The suspicion of foul play which was attached to the sinking of the [illegible] in Esquimalt harbor has been dispelled by the survey held by the engineers from the royal navy. These gentlemen report that the vessel sank because the valves connecting the after ballast tank with the forward ballast tank were opened after she floated off the rocks. This had the effect of depressing the vessel forward and causing her to sink.

Sailed—Bark Moravian lumber Melbourne. [illegible]

Victoria Shipping Notes

VICTORIA Sept —The two towing companies hitherto antagonized have [illegible] and are now running in opposition. The first tow taken under the new regime is the ship Melrose coal for San Francisco, which is being taken at fifty per cent below former rates by the British Columbia towing company as opposed to R. Dunsmuir & Sons. The backing of both companies is sufficiently great to promise a fierce struggle, and before it is ended it is expected that vessels will be towed at nominal figures.

General Millot who has had command of the French troops in Tonquin will embark at Saigon the [illegible] inst on his return to France. His successor will be appointed by the cabinet council after Prime Minister Ferry's return from Saint Die.

Le Temps urges the government to give command of the French troops there to officers holding important positions in the country and accustomed to handling large bodies of troops.

The preparations are completed for the despatch of 2500 marines and 600 regulars to China if circumstances render it necessary.

A delegation of the extreme left sent a letter to President Grevy pointing out that France, in conducting a war without a vote by the chambers and expending money without the sanction of parliament, is making an unwarranted disposition of the country's forces. The letter continues: This weakening of the country's defence and personal power is being affirmed with an obstinacy and audacity unworthy of the republic; the constitution remains a dead letter and the government acts without informing or consulting representatives of the people. The letter concludes by demanding the convocation of the chamber and appealing to Grevy's high political probity. It is believed Grevy will simply acknowledge the receipt of the letter, making no further reply.

BREATHING A SPIRIT OF DEFIANCE

LONDON Sept 2—A Times dispatch from Peking says: Imperial edicts and diplomatic circulars have recently been issued by Tsung Li Yamen indicated a spirit of defiance as the result of the Foo Chow disaster. DEMOCRATIC INWARDNESS

Hendricks' Compromising Letter About Cleveland and Other Matters.

New York Special August 29

To those who are on the inside of democratic politics in this city Hendricks' letter to a Dubuque democrat is full of significance when read between the lines. To begin with the question is asked, Why if he were entirely loyal to Cleveland should he write any letter at all to a prominent democrat whom he must have known was hostile to Cleveland and therefore liable to use any advantage against him? Or if he felt it due to courtesy to answer a correspondent whose very letter must have implied the belief that Hendricks was willing to be untrue to the head of the ticket why should he handle the matter so openly and carelessly? Why should he not have written guardedly so that if his letter should fall before the public it would not be a complete document within itself without reference to the letter to which it was a reply? Cleveland's friends are far from pleased at Hendricks' course in this matter and the belief is intimated that the tail of the ticket wrote his letter for a purpose and knowing that it would be published. They point to the fact that it makes a very mild defense of Cleveland admitting the truth of the very charges which have led to the talk of getting Cleveland off the track, brings out the fact that this question is being agitated in the democratic ranks and that there is a belief among the members of that party that unless Cleveland is withdrawn the defeat of the ticket in the November election is sure to follow. While Hendricks' letter recognizes these as existing facts he mildly deprecates the bringing of the scandal into the canvass, gently expresses the opinion that the action of the convention must stand and coos as gently as a sucking dove his belief that the democratic party has a chance to win.

It was given out that when Hendricks went east that it was for the purpose of winning over John Kelly and Tammany to the support of the ticket. He has returned to Indiana and Tammany is if anything more outspoken than ever. Cleveland's friends now say that having proved faithless to Joe McDonald in the Chicago convention Hendricks has proved equally traitorous to Cleveland, and that his communings with the Tammany chieftains were with a view to securing Cleveland's retirement and his own elevation to the first place on the ticket. A lively row in the democratic ranks is very probable. This letter of Hendricks it is charged by prominent democrats here reflects his friend John Kelly's scheme of having Cleveland's name withdrawn from the ticket and the substitution of some clean democrat that would not only unite all the democratic factions in New York state but would secure the united support of the independent element of the east.

Kelly while apparently skulking in his tent since the convention has been one of the most active workers in the democratic camp and the stakes played for as indicated above must be secured or he will not support the ticket. The knowing ones from the Pacific coast democratic delegation labored zealously for Thurman and many of Kelly's followers now believe that with him placed at the head of the ticket New York state Ohio Indiana and the Pacific coast would be secured for the democracy. It is also said that the reconvening of the democratic convention would not be necessary to carry out Kelly's plan of remodelling the democratic ticket as the claims of both Thurman and Hendricks were favorably passed on in the convention by the democrats of the country and either would have received the vote of the convention had it not been for the misrepresentation of the New York democrats with George William Curtis and Schurz in the background. The two latter worked zealously for Cleveland's renomination, backed by the New York Independent which has since acknowledged its mistake and now renounces Cleveland in words that cannot be misunderstood.

Phil Tweed's Son.

NEW YORK Aug —Richard Tweed son of the late William M. Tweed died to-day in a Paris mad house. He does not seem to have left any property. When the announcement of his death was communicated to a prominent democrat here to-night he said "I knew Dick Tweed well as a boy but he never was much of a figure in politics in New York. He lacked the force and individuality of his father. He was given to dress and in the present day would surely have been called a dude. Young Dick was regarded as a mere stripling and was tolerated only for his father's sake. Later in life he took considerable interest in the militia and affected a military appearance. But his intellect was never of the sturdy order of that of the old Boss. After the downfall of his father young Tweed drifted to New Orleans and thence after a while to Europe. The old Boss was careful to provide for his children and young Dick was not forgotten. He came to manhood in the halcyon days of his father's rule and was a gambler before he was twenty and his course since has only been a continuation of the beginning. It is a case of a father's sin visited upon a son."

Confronted with Past Records

Boston Advertiser

When the present campaign opened one of the first of the newspapers to be confronted by extracts from its past record was the Daily Advertiser. In our explanation we set the example of telling the truth and then waited with patience. Since that time the greater part of the leading papers in the northern states have been summoned to account for changes in their judgments of men or of measures occurring in the last dozen years. Our New York contemporaries especially find an unfailing supply of ammunition in each other's files. All of which goes to show that immutable opinions are unattainable even if desirable and that the best thing to be hoped for from journals or from individuals is the sincere expression of an honest judgment.

THE QUESTION OF DESERT

In a paragraph yesterday THE OREGONIAN spoke of a remark made by the Boston Herald to the effect that all arguments that an administration cannot be better than the party which has placed it in power, and that all attempts to demonstrate that Gov Cleveland is better than his party and therefore worthy of election while Mr Blaine is worse than his party and therefore deserving of defeat are puerile and illogical in the last degree In order to support Cleveland consistently therefore the Herald is obliged to argue that the democratic party is more deserving of the confidence of the people of the United States than the republican This is a question which is entitled to debate, and the Herald proceeds with it in a spirit of fairness There is, however abundant reason to dissent from its conclusions

If the democratic party is more deserving of confidence than the republican it must be so because of its higher and better character and this higher and better character in a party can spring only from the higher and better character of its constituent elements Are the elements that constitute the democratic party better in citizenship character and purpose than those that form the republican? They must be so if the democratic party is more worthy of confidence than the republican party

Again, the measures purposes and objects of a party the things it has done, declared or attempted are a test of the character of that party The country knows what the democratic party has done or tried to do The character of the party has been revealed by its acts All that it has done proposed or attempted during twenty five years the country has condemned. Yet all the acts of this objectionable and odious career have had their origin in the character of the party From this source the acts of the party have sprung as naturally as any evil thing or good thing brings forth fruit after its kind

Let us not incur the charge of rudeness or discourtesy by saying that the democratic party contains the bulk of the lower ignorant and immoral elements, and that as an administration it would represent these Yet it will not be denied that the north or republican section contains the progressive elements of the country Nearly all the great activities are in the northern and republican states, the common school system is most perfect in republican strongholds, most of the colleges and nearly all the great writers are in the northern communities, the great magazines are all issued in republican states, and though independent in sentiment are republican in their tendency the newspaper press of the country is preponderantly republican which can only be explained by the fact that republican readers are most numerous and that newspapers must be republican in order to pay Nearly all the great religious journals are openly republican and most of the vices which they attack are maintained by demagogues in the cities as "democratic principles —being claimed as rights" for the immoral classes You can tell upon looking into any city in what localities the democratic vote is massed and in what localities the republican vote abounds If in the southern states the mass of the more intelligent and respectable people are adherents of the democratic party the explanation is that they are now democrats because they were once rebels The same sentiment that consolidated them to fight the Union will not let them divide for any other purpose

All that the democratic party has contended for has been in keeping with its character Hence its opposition to all the measures which the country has decreed and enacted during the last twenty five years for its honor and well being No examination either of the character or conduct of the democratic party can convince one who is not resolved already that it is more entitled to the confidence of the people of the United States than the republican party To reach this conclusion one must wish that democratic efforts since 1860 had succeeded, and that republican efforts and republican policy had been rejected He must wish the country were still in the condition in which the democratic party left it when Buchanan retired and he ought to try to put it back there

GREAT GUNS

The recent action of congress looking to the rehabilitation of the navy and to the improvement of means for coast defence has awakened much interest in civil as well as in military circles. Official committees have been investigating the steel producing capacities of the country for armor and artillery and a military and naval board have been engaged devising plans for the establishment of two factories one for the army and the other for the navy Important experiments are also being made to determine the utility and effectiveness of steel breech loading field pieces and converted tubes and the first six inch wire-wound gun of American material has recently been begun at the Washington yard

Lieutenant Jaques secretary of the board appointed to investigate the best methods of manufacturing heavy ordnance recently published a supplemental report which as interpreted by the New York Times pronounces against the establishment of a government steel foundry, against the project that the government should furnish to private works the hammer which is the chief tool in forging gun metal in favor of liberally encouraging private industries by intrusting to them the making of steel, and in favor of establishing the government factories one for the army and the other for the navy, the former at Watervliet and the latter at Washington

It is estimated that it will require an expenditure of $1 800 000 and three years time to put the proposed factories in operation As to the best guns, the report makes this plain declaration "All authorities concur that steel homogeneous metal, is the best material" and that "breech loading is universally adopted" The Whitworth fluid compressed steel is the standard for our manufacturers to work up to The wire-wound system of ordnance is favorably regarded by the board but it has not yet passed the experimental stage, and a perfect wire-winding machine is yet to be obtained

If "—writes Senator Hoar to a young independent "you elect Cleveland you abandon further hope of civil service reform for this generation You take the side of free trade against protection You bid farewell for a lifetime to honest elections in the south You suffer the great Mormon cancer to spread over the breast of the republic There is but one thing on which Grover Cleveland has unmistakably planted himself That is that if elected, he will be a party instrument " Can any one of these statements be successfully denied? Is not either of them conclusive as to the duty of any man who has ever been a republican and civil service reformer?

Senator Morrill of Vermont, who accompanied Mr Blaine to Europe in 1867 says that on that trip Blaine told him how the bulk of his fortune was made He had purchased a tract of coal land in West Virginia for $4000 paying a part of the sum down and the balance soon after from the profits of the mines These mines Mr Blaine said were then paying him annually an amount equal to the interest on $200 000, and they have greatly increased in value since

Readers of democratic papers are just now getting more temperance doctrine than they have been accustomed to. Democratic papers are eagerly publishing the utterances of St John and his supporters, and the declarations of his party and generally giving the prohibition campaign a degree of prominence and favor that must be very perplexing to their readers

Governor Sherman says the prohibitory law in Iowa is to be enforced even if he has to call out the militia to do it. It can be enforced that way.

THE FRANCO-CHINA WAR

The present war between France and China from the financial point of view turns upon the value of twenty two French lives After the signing of the treaty of Tientsin on May 11 the Chinese diplomatist Li Hung Chang proposed as a toast the prosperity of the French republic Six weeks later owing to a misunderstanding between advancing French troops and an evacuating Chinese column twenty two French soldiers lost their lives As a reparation for this alleged violation of the treaty M Ferry demanded the payment of fifty millions of dollars The Chinese naturally refused though they offered instead a hundred thousand dollars as compensation to the families of the killed and wounded This sum was considered by France insultingly small and therefore M Ferry ordered Admiral Lespes to seize and reduce Kelung This being accomplished but having no effect at Pekin Admiral Courbet was ordered to destroy the great arsenal at Pagoda Island three miles below Foo Chow Several lives were lost at Kelung and a large amount of property destroyed Not satisfied with sinking gunboats and wrecking Chinese materials of war Admiral Courbet brought his heavy ironclad fleet up to Foo Chow and opened fire upon the city itself But thanks to fortifications and Chinese gunnery this attempt is reported to have failed Enough property has been destroyed and lives lost however to cause the English press to characterize the bombardment as sickening

All this has been done to prove that France was right and China wrong It is only as M Ferry says a form of negotiation It is conceivable that the Chinese may prefer to negotiate in the old fashioned way and there is a general demand to this effect If the war continues the damage to trade will be great and the loss will fall not alone on China but mainly on England Germany and the United States In 1883 this country alone exported goods to China worth more than four millions while the imports reached the sum of twenty millions These hostilities have already created something of a tempest in the American teapot But there are several reasons for thinking that the tea trade will not be materially affected by the present contest There is said to be a year's supply of tea on hand The population of China is very large and several millions of men could be spared for soldiers without seriously affecting the productive capacity of the country There are numerous points of shipment which it will certainly be impossible for the French navy to blockade The German English and American interests in the trade are too great to be seriously antagonized by France, and the Chinese are a commercial people whose first impulse will be to sell their product and it is probable therefore that no serious danger of a tea famine exists

Foo Chow is a great literary center with the great collegiate institutes in which the Chinese students numbering thousands go to commence continue and never conclude their studies A course of study in a Chinese college is something like a Chinese play which lasts a century or two or like the brook which goes on and on forever As an evidence of the extent of the Chinese curriculum it may be stated that the geography of China alone requires 500 volumes when to this added writing with its 50 000 characters and arithmetic it may be seen that an educated Chinaman has a good deal to do before he gets his diploma Of geography the Chinese are peculiar in this respect in that while it takes 500 volumes to describe China they manage to include the rest of the world in a couple of dozen pages Foo Chow is also a manufacturing city of great importance It has a population larger than that of Chicago It is located some twenty miles up the river Min and is naturally fortified by hills which surround it, and artificially protected by walls which were erected centuries ago Some portions of its public works are known to be over a thousand years old

The bombardment of such a city merely as a form of negotiation should never have been undertaken and should not be permitted to continue The time for wars of conquest and wars for forced contributions has gone by The present state of nations will not permit of them This is not a fighting age Trade and production are the chief concerns of states These have never been the real occasion of a war in the world's history Either the jealousy or ambition of princes or the freebooters aim of robbers calling themselves statesmen have heretofore been the cause of armed conflicts The latter purpose was as we have shown the cause of this war and the nations interested in the China trade ought to interfere to bring it to a close At no time has a better chance offered for the successful application of the principle of arbitration The economy of the present age teaches that the wealth of the world is a matter of general interest and common sense adds that the trade of the world should be the subject of mutual protection

AN ETHNOLOGICAL STUDY

The most interesting ethnological study yet presented in the history of mankind is offered to-day in the United States The inflow of immigrants from all parts of the world and especially from Europe has been going on with wonderful rapidity for more than two generations and circumstances may occur which will tend to increase that inflow very materially The question then becomes an important one Can the American stock absorb or assimilate without material detriment the current of foreign immigration which has set in and which has been steadily increasing in volume?

Mr Joseph E Chamberlin contributes an interesting article on this subject to the September number of the Century He says The American nation is in the formative stage and though our Angles Danes, Saxons and Normans are coming together and under our eyes the problem of their blending of the evolution of the type which is to become dominant and to survive is still to be solved The whole population of the country minus persons of foreign birth and parentage native negroes and Indians is 28 601 676 or not much more than half the population The problem is how two such diverse masses so nearly equal in numbers can be safely assimilated with the immigration continuing increasingly and the negroes multiplying faster than the whites

The figures given which show the groupings of the various foreign elements in the several states are interesting The Germans form the most numerous element in our foreign population being 8 3 per cent of the whole population in 1880 They are scattered principally through the agricultural regions and their percentage ranges from 11 0 in Wisconsin to 1 1 in West Virginia In Ohio there are only 7 0 per cent of German birth and in Pennsylvania 3 9 The Irish born number 3 7 per cent of the whole population 63 per cent being in the Atlantic sea board states north of North Carolina leaving one third of them to be scattered over the rest of the country As a general rule where the Irish are most numerous the Germans are scarcest

The immigrants from Great Britain English Scotch and Welch are next in order as to number and are rather more evenly distributed than the Germans and Irish They number 917 598 British America furnishes 17 1 Scandinavia 440 262 and the remaining elements are too meager to be considered even the Scandinavians falling below 1 per cent of the total population

The writer does not attempt to discuss the broad question on what is likely to be the specific influence of these peoples upon the native stock but assumes that ethnologically the change will be slight On the presumption that all white elements will readily fuse he concludes that the American of the future would be almost as much an Anglo-Saxon as the American of 1820

John I Davenport, who has just distinguished himself by exposing the Morey letter four years after it was written, has succeeded in depleting the treasury during the past six years to the tune of $1[illegible] 716 [illegible] which is a pretty fair salary for a man whose work has consisted chiefly in drawing his salary As to the compiling a few facts about the Morey letter which were familiar to everybody before his six years work has left no monument that is visible to the public eye.

AN UNSUSPECTED TRAITOR

Among the original documents published in the Magazine of American History for August are some letters of the revolutionary period which tend to show that Major General Samuel Holden Parsons was in surreptitious and criminal correspondence with Sir Henry Clinton the British commander during a critical period of the war The correspondence referred to is preserved in the library of Dr Thomas Addis Emmet of New York city who furnished the copy used by the press Its authenticity is indisputable and it includes the original secret records of private daily intelligence kept by Sir Henry Clinton General Parsons was a Connecticut lawyer and legislator who helped to get up an expedition to take Ticonderoga and was soon afterward appointed colonel of the sixth calvary regiment He finally became the senior officer from Connecticut In July 1781 when some of his letters are dated he was in command of the right front line of the patriot army near Tarrytown New York He was highly esteemed by General Washington and by Governor Trumbull and it is a singular fact that, but a few months previous to the date of some of his treasonable letters he served as one of the six major generals constituting the court martial which tried Major Andre and sentenced him to be hung as a spy

General Parsons letters giving the British commander full information as to the American forces their movements and the plans of the American commander were written under cover to one William Heron of Redding Fairfield county Connecticut by whom they were transmitted to British headquarters They contain accurate information very valuable to the British commander and promised other disclosures as soon as the facts could be ascertained It appears by the correspondence that General Parsons was to receive money and he also stipulated for a cask of wine and that his son should receive an appointment in the British navy His treason was not even suspected during his lifetime After the Revolutionary war he practiced law in New London He lived honored and respected and was president of the Connecticut Society of the Cincinnati In 1789 he was appointed by President Washington chief judge of Ohio territory Such a disclosure will doubtless attract the attention of historians and his descendents if there are any living, will doubtless vindicate his name if that is possible

HORSES AND THEIR SPEED

The time of fast horses has been so often beaten by that of faster ones as to cause much speculation as to what would ultimately be found the limit of speed Just where that limit is to be found is still as interesting a question as ever Who would have thought half a century ago that a horse could be produced capable of trotting a mile in 2.20? Yet that record was reached and surpassed twenty five years ago Since then there has been a steady but gradual increase in speed until the wonderful achievements of Jay Eye See and Maud S recently recorded

The New York Herald has been examining the records running back over a period of forty years to the time when Lady Suffolk was queen of the turf, In 1844 her record was 2 26 In 1859 Flora Temple scored a mile in 2 19 In 1867 Dexter's record was 2 17¼ in 1874 Goldsmith Maid reduced the time to 2 14 The fastest time made by Rarus was 2 13¼ in 1878 and by St Julien 2 11¼ in 1880 In the latter year Maud S made her mile in 2 10¾ and in 1881 reduced the time to 2 10¼ Then followed the extraordinary record of August 1884 Jay Eye See 2 10 Maud S 2 09

A glance at the review says the Herald shows that the record of trotting on the turf has been lowered sixteen and one fourth seconds or a little more than a quarter of a minute, during the past forty years and just ten seconds, or one sixth of a minute during the last quarter of a century Does this indicate that the limit of speed in trotting has been almost reached? Indeed it is altogether probable that the flyers of thirty years ago were possessed of going qualities actually as good as those of Maud S and Jay Eye See but were handicapped by the more clumsy appliances for feet and legs the less skillful training and handling and the disadvantage of greatly inferior tracks If this view is correct the improvement in speed is more apparent than real

A POPULAR RAILROAD

Mr Billings who has a very large interest in the Northern Pacific railroad and a good deal to do with its management said while in this city last week that as soon as the company passes the present pinch a more liberal policy will be adopted It is his purpose to make it a popular road and a benefit to the country as well as its owners This announcement will be received with great satisfaction all along the line There can be no question as to the wisdom of his policy The failure of the Union Pacific is principally due to the fact that its rates of freight and fare have been so oppressive that very little local business has been developed and when competing lines took away its through traffic it had little to sustain it The Atchison road on the other hand while not by any means a charitable institution has been conducted on a very different plan It sold its lands at low prices and on very favorable terms and gave its patrons such rates that a large local business has been created and the road is now receiving the benefit of it The Northern has already reduced the price of its lands but a further reduction should be made and when people settle along the line they should be given a chance to live contentedly and make a little money Only in this way can the road be made valuable and gain the good will of the people We trust that Mr Billings will impress his views upon the other directors and cause the change in policy to be inaugurated as soon as possible

The king of Siam has instituted a system of gradual emancipation in his dominion His scheme permits the slave to work out his own freedom in a certain number of years and further provides that all the children born in slavery shall become free at [illegible] This is an enlightenment hardly to be expected from this indolent and largely ignorant people But western civilization has during the present reign been quietly making long strides in Siam The men who are now assuming the highest places in the administration of the country are youths who have been educated in Europe and the present king has taken a step away from despotism by establishing councils of state and ministers

Senator Anthony of Rhode Island [illegible] had yesterday was the oldest member of the United States senate in continuous service He was born in 1815, was editor of the Providence Journal for a number of years was elected governor of Rhode Island in 1849 and again in 1850 and in 1858 was elected to the United States senate and re elected in 1864 in 1870 in 1876 and in 1882 He was not a brilliant man but was a useful and honorable one

O. R. & N. Co.'s REDUCTION OF WAGES.—The O. R. & N. Co. arrived and departed on yesterday although shorthanded and the company was able to forward all freight which was received at once. But it was not possible to handle all the freight with the number of men available. The men are willing to take the places of the [illegible], but the latter while not openly making any violence, have caused most of the new men to quit by coaxing and in some instances by [illegible] them, and if this thing goes on there is danger that the community will be put to inconvenience and loss by interruption to traffic. The company has no desire to see the wages of labor reduced, but as the company has seen fit to reduce the wages of its employes it will be well for them to take a calm view of the matter. That the high wages is over here is a fact which might as well be understood first as last. While our farmers are to take 60 cents per bushel for their wheat, if they can even get so much, laborers must expect to have his wages lowered. Every man is obliged to work for anything less than he chooses, but no man has a right to prevent another from going to work for whatsoever wages [illegible]. The law is plain on this point. Section 6[illegible]0 of the statutes of Oregon provides that "If any person by any use of force, threats or intimidation prevent or endeavor to prevent any person employed by another from continuing or performing his work or from accepting any new work or employment, such person upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not less than one month nor more than six months or by fine not less than $50 nor more than $500." The strikers should bear in mind that there are many men out of employment here and with a long, rainy winter at hand and that food and comfortable quarters will be no bad thing even with reduced wages. If they could succeed in having the boats tied up there would be no work at all from that source and the outlook for the strikers is rather poor in any direction.

THE TWO FASTEST TUGS ON THE COAST.—The new tug Astoria arrived at Astoria a few days since and there has been considerable dispute among seafaring men as to whether she or the Pioneer was the fastest boat. A chance occurred for them to test the matter on Monday and the Astoria describes the race. The Pioneer was off Fort Stevens with seventy pounds of steam when the Astoria came along to give her a brush. Neither made any extraordinary effort, but as is natural the Pioneer to be left, and so they came flying along with considerable interest by a large crowd on the dock who knew that such a good chance was not to be allowed to pass. The scene was a fine one. The breeze was fresh from the southwest, the water was rough and the green swells sparkled in the sunlight or flashed from the sides of the little boats as they kissed through the rushing water. Seven miles were made in twenty-four minutes, the Astoria leading, though it is the belief of some that the Pioneer can hold her own with the new arrival. Pilots say that when the Astoria has a chance to get her bearings worked true and has been in the service a while she can walk away from anything. Be that as it may, one thing is certain, that the two finest and fastest tugs on the coast are the Astoria and the Pioneer.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.—Stephen J. Field, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, arrived in this city yesterday. He is accompanied by his family, his brother Hon. Cyrus W. Field, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hall, Miss Hall, J. Hall, and Mrs. S. H. Wales and Mrs. W. F. Judson. The party travel in a private car, Railway Age. During their protracted stay they have been to see the country they have come across on the Northern Pacific. Of the daily numerous stoppages along the way, many sight this country, pleasure with the business interests of the trip. Mr. Cyrus W. Field said the object of his visit is the inspection of the Northern Pacific road in which he has become a large stockholder. He declined to make any statement in regard to the report that his trip over the line is in connection with the Wall street syndicate and option on Villard stock and the rumor that he is buying shares of Northern Pacific preferred stock. He would not express himself on any matter relating to the road. Justice Field will hold the U. S. circuit court to-day with Judge Deady, when the case of Seeley vs. Reed, Ladd and the Oregon Iron and Steel company, which has been pending for some time awaiting his coming, will come up for hearing on an injunction. After remaining here a short time the party will go to Puget Sound and British Columbia.

TALK ABOUT POLL TAX.—Deputy Poll-tax Collector James Riley called on two Chinamen who were sawing wood on Yamhill street yesterday for their tax. They produced receipts showing that they had paid a poll tax in 1884 in California. The collector insisted on them paying a tax for Oregon also, but the men refused to pay. The collector then seized the saws of the Chinamen, but was persuaded to return them. The matter excited considerable interest in the crowd which collected, and two lawyers present were anxious to know the law in the case. As one of them said he had paid his poll tax in Washington territory and had been obliged to pay it again, and the other had paid his tax in California and had been asked to pay it here again, both protested. The tax is charged for a year's residence. Judge Deady has held that if a man is living in the state at the time the assessor makes his list in April he is obliged to pay the tax, but if he came into the state after that time he could not be called upon until the next year. If a man pays the tax it is enough these hard times.

WORD FROM THE FORCE.—Lill Tennant, who was a policeman in this city some time ago through the powerful influence of Councilman [illegible] and a certain deputy chief of police who at that time infested the office, has resigned, given up his star and quit the force. This fact will be made known to the city council at their regular meeting to-night and to some members at least the news will be welcome. Twice did Tennant while on the force become so drunk as to disgrace the uniform, and each time he was whitewashed over and permitted to remain in his position. The only explanation of how he came to resign is offered in a certain new rule posted in the station the other day by Chief of Police Parrish. This rule forbids any officer from taking a drink of liquor while on duty, or of becoming intoxicated at any time, on penalty of immediate suspension. Bill would have put up with the intoxicated part of the rule, for he would have sworn that it was only the whisky hurting his feet, but when it came to being forbidden to take a drink of any kind of liquor during his hours, why, he drew the line at that.

FOR HOSE CONTESTS.—Superintendent [illegible] of the Mechanics' fair of this city, in response to a letter from Salem, states that the board of directors have concluded to offer a gold medal as a first and a silver medal as a second prize for hose team contests during the exhibition this year. He also states that there will be no difficulty in raising a liberal purse as an additional inducement to hose teams from abroad, and adds that the entire matter has been placed in the hands of Thomas A. Jordan and [illegible] Abell, who will use every means in their power to make it a success. The Capital hose team of Salem are watching matters with interest with a view of having a finger in the pie when the proper time arrives. Hose teams from Albany and Astoria will also undoubtedly enter this contest, provided their expenses can in any way be assured them.

DEAF MUTE SCHOOL.—The regular session of the state school for deaf mutes for 1884-85 will open at Salem on Wednesday, October 1, at which time it is desirable that all pupils be present. Rev. P. S. Knight, superintendent, has engaged as an additional teacher Mr. [illegible] D. McFarland, late of Baltimore, who has made a special study of various methods of teaching the deaf and who will have charge of the advanced class. The remaining officers of the school will be the same as last year. The new building containing two fine school rooms, two dining rooms, etc., is now finished. The two buildings heretofore occupied are to be used as separate homes for the boys and girls. The facilities for enforcing a more thorough discipline and providing for the health and comfort of those attending the school are greatly improved.

BACK WOOD RIVER.—John N. Durham, an old resident of Washington county, arrived here yesterday from a twenty months' prospecting trip to the Wood river country. He has located a ledge of silver bearing galena there which assays from 400 to 800 ounces of silver per ton and has named it the "Silver [illegible] Lode." He had with him a piece of the ore, which is almost as heavy as gold. He says that there are eight mines along Wood river which are shipping out from two to [illegible] carloads of ore each day, but the greater part of which is shipped to [illegible] on account of the excessive price charged by the smelting furnaces at Wood river. Mr. Durham's health being feeble, he came home to recuperate, but will return in the spring, as he thinks there is a bright future in store for that section.

WOMAN DELEGATES.—Quite a number of delegates to the republican territorial convention which meets at Seattle to-morrow passed through the city yesterday, among them those from Clarke county. One of these is Miss Ella Whipple, M. D., of Vancouver, who as far as she is informed is the first woman delegate to the convention, though there may be others. In the Clarke county republican convention were eleven women and in that of [illegible] county there were several, with other counties to hear from. Miss Whipple so far from regarding her political privileges with trepidation or timidity, assured a reporter that she finds them quite pleasant and regards them as duties which it is neither wise nor just to shirk.

SCHUMANN POIT'S LECTURE.—The second of a series of lectures to be delivered in this city by Mr. Schuenemann Poit of San Francisco is announced for this evening at Turn Halle. The subject which the learned professor has chosen for this lecture is "The Historical Records of the Free Religious Movement Among the Anglo-Americans."

CHANGE IN POUND REGULATIONS.—Poundmaster Love has come to the conclusion that all poundmasters reach after a certain length of time in the office that more enemies can be made and more curses received from various people in one day in that position than in a year in any other, and consequently has resigned. There have been so many complaints made by citizens of late about the poundkeeper and the way in which that business has been conducted that the city has resolved to make a change. Hereafter the chief of police will exercise the functions of poundmaster and whoever is appointed to succeed Love will simply be poundkeeper. A regular set of books will be kept at the police station wherein will be entered descriptions of all animals sent to the pound and when redeemed or when killed, as the case may be. People who desire to recover their animals or have grievances will transact all business at the station, which will probably give better satisfaction than the old way.

HOG DEALER DEFAULTER.—The last excitement in Chinatown is a hog defaulter. Wing Him Soon has been shipping lots of hogs to Victoria and getting good prices for them, but he neglected to ship any money back. His goods near Jones' mill were attached yesterday by Sheriff Jordan. Mr. Soon has succeeded in defaulting to the tune of nearly $8000 and his creditors are after him, but more especially after [illegible] of hogs he has shipped yesterday for Victoria. It is sad to think that this designing knave should use the innocent hog as a medium for swindling his brethren.

INQUEST OVER THE UNKNOWN DEAD.—No justice of the peace being at hand to act, Coroner Cooke himself went to Oneonta to hold an inquest over the dead body found floating in the river near that place last Saturday. He returned yesterday and reports that the inquest revealed absolutely nothing concerning the man's identity or the manner in which he came to his death. It is supposed, however, that he was accidentally drowned, no marks of violence being found upon the body.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Saturday night a young man named Hansler was drowned at Astoria. The young man was employed on the steamer Union. Just a few minutes after the boat was made fast to the dock Hansler was leaning over the side when by some means he slipped and fell overboard. Before assistance could possibly reach him he sank. The body was not recovered for nearly an hour. No blame could possibly attach to any one. Deceased was well known in Astoria.

GRAND JURY.—The following names were drawn from the regular jury panel to act as grand jurors for the September term of the state circuit court for Multnomah county: C. B. Cardinell, Portland, clerk; S. J. N. Gilman, Portland, auctioneer; A. Markin, [illegible] Rooster Rock, farmer; S. Blumauer, Portland, capitalist; Larkin Russell, Rooster Rock, farmer; J. H. Gove, Mount Zion, farmer; Hillery Cason, East Portland, farmer.

INTO NEW QUARTERS.—"What is My Testimony?" the subject for discussion to-day in the chapel of the Y. M. C. A. in their new quarters, corner First and Salmon streets. The meeting will be opened by music. Each and every young man is urged to be present, as a hearty welcome awaits all. The regular noon day meeting will be held in the new rooms to-day from 12 15 to 12:45. Reading room open at 1 P. M.

CHARGED WITH ADULTERY.—Mrs. Larry Nevil[illegible] and Michael Miner, who were arrested upon complaint of the former's husband upon a charge of adultery, had their examinations yesterday before Justice Davis. Both were held to answer before the grand jury in the sum of $100, and being unable to furnish bonds were locked up in the county jail.

OVERLAND PASSENGERS.—The following named persons passed Heron yesterday to arrive here to-day: H. H. Browning, George Montgomery, L. L. McArthur and family, Nelson Mann, Miss Spiller, Mr. Starback, Miss W. B. King, John C. Hilman, F. Robinson, G. P. Forbes, J. R. Robinson, Miss J. Jennings, J. F. Pratt.

BRIEF MENTION

Regular meeting of the city council this evening.

The Montefiore centenary committee meets to-night.

Jacob O. Neilson was yesterday admitted to citizenship in the state circuit court.

The grand jury were engaged yesterday in examining into the case of Oscar F. Booker, charged with arson, and it is understood that he will be indicted.

The Dora Bluhm is in the river to load lumber at the Clatsop Mill company's wharf. She is as fine a model of a schooner as ever was seen in the Columbia.

The weather continues mixed, the wind blowing in every direction except straight up and down, and occasionally we are treated to a sprinkle of rain as a foretaste of what is coming.

Gas consumers will please remember that they can save a dollar per thousand feet on their bills by paying them to-day. Next month the reduction in the price of gas comes into effect.

All members of the W. C. T. U. are especially requested to be present at the regular weekly meeting at 2 30 this afternoon at the hall on Fifth street, between Alder and Washington streets.

Pat Norton, who has been working on the Oregon Pacific railroad, was stricken with paralysis last Sunday. He came in on the west side road yesterday and was taken to St. Vincent's hospital.

A camp meeting will be held by the Spiritualists at New Era commencing Thursday, September [illegible], and extending over [illegible] Sunda[illegible]. Arrangements have been made with the railroad company for a reduction of fare.

A handsome medal has been prepared to be shot for by the militia companies of this state. It consists of a target surmounted by a star, with a [illegible] pendant from crossed rifles, and bears the inscription: Champion Military Team of Oregon.

Messrs. Tronkman & Wolf are engaged in manufacturing a mile and a half of thirteen inch wrought iron pipe for The Dalles Water Company. It is made of iron one sixteenth of an inch thick, which when properly coated with asphalt will last a score of years.

Mr. A. M. P[illegible]sto has received an order from Wasco county for a number of the Dilg patent shackels, invented by a Portland citizen. This shackle is attracting general attention, it being more humane and fully as effective as the old time ball and chain for prisoners.

In early spring, when fishing with salmon roe is in vogue, the roe of the Chinook is of no account, being small and consisting mostly of membrane. An occasional Chinook now finds its way to market, and they have tremendous roes. One taken from a medium sized fish yesterday weighed three pounds, and the eggs were as large as peas.

John Crummie, arrested yesterday for using profane and obscene language at his residence on Water street between Market and Mill, was fined $10. Crummie's vulgarity has been a source of much annoyance to his neighbors for some time and they propose to report him to the police every time he persists in talking as he has done in the past.

A Chinese contractor, Wing Sing, who went over to Seattle to secure a contract on the Northern Pacific extension, returned yesterday. He says the contract for clearing the roadway was let too low for him to want any of it. He found a demand for Chinese laborers, but saw a slim prospect for getting his cash, so he is out the expenses of his trip. But then Sing is not in a hurry to get rich like some of his friends.

AMUSEMENTS

GIROFLE GIROFLA.—A fair audience greeted the Fay Templeton troupe at New Market theatre last evening upon their reproduction of Girofle Girofla, which was far better done than upon their first appearance here. The addition of George Traverner, the tenor robusto, who made his first appearance in this city as Marasquin, was most noticeable, for he is not only a good singer but is possessed of a fine stage presence and is an accomplished actor. His appearance for the remainder of the week will add much to the pleasure of the audiences who will attend. To-night that most charming of comic operas, Fatinitza, will be presented.

THE TIVOLI.—Under the management of Edwin Stevens this theater continues flourishing, and its patronage is most encouraging. The Magic Doll, changed somewhat but still the same laughable burlesque, holds the boards until Saturday night, when Girofle Girofla will be presented.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.—Lawrence Barrett will open at New Market theater Monday evening, September 15. Joseph R. Grismer, Phœbe Davis, Mabel Bert and other California actors, who are familiar to our theater-goers, will come north in a few weeks with a new set of plays.

ANCIENT ORDER OF HIBERNIANS

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians met at The Dalles on Aug. 31, and after transacting the regular routine of business of the order for the state they proceeded to the election of state officers for the ensuing term of two years as follows: M. J. Gleeson, state delegate; Mathew Oaney, state secretary; John Ring, state treasurer. A vote of thanks was tendered to Captain John Wolf of the Dixie Thompson, Captain McNulty of the steamer Harvest Queen, Mr. Dodge, superintendent of the river division of the O. R. & N. Co., and A. L. Stokes, general ticket agent, for courtesies received during the trip to The Dalles.

J. J. Meagher was elected delegate for this county. Division No. 3 of this city elected the following officers: President, T. Smyth; vice president, Pd. Herty; recording secretary, W. J. McNamara; financial secretary, D. Crowley; treasurer, O. D. Bohne; sergeant at arms, John A. Kelly.

THE EAST SIDE

TANGLE OF TANGERS

The neighborhood of North Fourth street was alarmed late Monday night by the boisterous conduct of a man named [illegible] who while under the influence of liquor and also the screams of his wife, who was evidently in fear of her life under his abuse and inhuman behavior. Councilman Laing and Nicolai, who were attracted by the disturbance, lost no time in securing the marshal, but the officer met with a stout resistance in attempting to arrest the offender. Upon entering the house the desperado tried to evade the officer by bolting up stairs, but the latter overhauled him midway and a tussle ensued. The officer was about getting the worst of the conflict when he executed a brilliant movement by placing his head between his opponent's legs and pitching him headlong to the bottom. This did not appear to weaken his combativeness, however, and the officer found it necessary to demand the assistance of the councilmen, who had hitherto remained outside to but be reduced to fill it in spite of all assistance. When unable to use his hands he brought his feet into active service and with telling effect, as Mr. Laing can testify. Kicking his boots off, his operation he became easier to handle, and Laing knelt on him and choked him while the marshal put on the wristlets. Charles Dreman, who was present, then assisted the officer in escorting him to jail. And for all this the recorder cordially taxed him $10 yesterday morning. He is the same man of whom a sub-scription was raised a short time since upon the death of his two children, though he appears to have plenty to spend for whisky and bail when arrested.

CARTRIDGE EXPLODES—A BOY HURT

A cartridge or cap that is used for blasting purposes was recently given to Eddie Rank, son of James Rank, a boy about 11 years of age, upon and yesterday morning while he was [illegible] a needle he undertook to see what it was. The composition Dr. Dav[illegible] attended the injuries, which consisted of one joint of the thumb and two joints of the forefinger of the left hand being blown off, also a large portion of the flesh of the forefinger of the right hand and severe burning about his hands and face. He will suffer pain for a long time and inconvenience during his life. Neither the boy nor the cartridge are to blame, but certainly some one is.

FAILED TO APPEAR

W. T. Golden, who recently shone in a case of assault and battery at Albina, was again arrested Monday evening—this time on the charge of using abusive and obscene language in the presence of ladies, preferred by Jos. B. Truman, who was also the complainant in the former case. Upon being arraigned in Justice Coleman's court he pleaded not guilty, and his trial was set for 2 o'clock yesterday. Being released on his own recognizance. Not being put under bonds he evidently thought it a golden opportunity to take advantage of, as he failed to put in an appearance. Golden has distinguished himself of late as a disturber of the peace in Albina, and the chances are if Golden was made to keep silence he would soon realize that silence is golden.

NOTES

The council were not so gullible as to be caught by Eostyn's taffy. Idle evidently a stranger here, as he says, or he would not attempt by such means to get his license money refunded because his saloon business did not pan out as he expected.

Louis Guenther, foreman of the Humboldt brewery, sues Lambert Kratz, the proprietor, in Justice Coleman's court for $16, amount of wages claimed due. Kratz denies the justness of the claim through the incompetence of plaintiff and consequent damage to his business. The case will be tried before a jury to-day.

J. T. Lucas, formerly of this city, arrived in this city yesterday from the Baker City branch road, where he has been acting as steward in the telegraph construction department for some time. He is en route to visit his father in Iowa, who is not expected to live many days. He has leave of absence for six weeks.

SALEM NOTES

SALEM, Sept. 2.

Hon. J. W. Nesmith is in the city to-day. His legion of friends everywhere regret his impaired health.

We had nice showers yesterday and to-day, which have cooled off the atmosphere and refreshed things generally.

W. T. D'Arcy, whose eye was so severely injured several days ago, is suffering some pain, but is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Thomas Beatty, a six year old lad residing at Turner's station, was severely kicked by a horse which he was leading yesterday. Small hopes are entertained of his recovery.

The wife of Rev. J. Taylor Chambers, rector of the Episcopal church in this city, yesterday presented him with a son. S. W. Church is also rejoicing over a like event in his family.

S. W. Church has disposed of his interest in the boot and shoe business to a couple of gentlemen who recently arrived here from Chicago. Formal possession will probably be given in a few days.

A prominent clothier of this city who recently purchased a stock of Cleveland hats for the campaign is already figuring his probable loss, as he has as yet disposed of none to the democracy of Salem.

Inasmuch as we have quite a number of expert bicyclists among us, Captain [illegible] Smith's son, who has a wooden leg, strikes his left limb propels the machine with [illegible] It has been suggested that a bicycle club be organized at an early day.

The demand for reserved seats for Colonel Ingersoll's lecture this evening is [illegible] as large as was anticipated, the [illegible] being [illegible] not [illegible] the church [illegible] of the [illegible] are too numerous [illegible] sure the [illegible] return of Mr. Ingersoll's style [illegible] though he may be.

Invitations have been received from the Elaine and L[illegible] of this city to participate in the formal opening of the [illegible] the 4th inst., all members to be transported to the [illegible] and return free, the members only to pay $[illegible] each. Arrangements will probably be made to accept the invitation and to have a large delegation present.

Our Methodist friends are considerably interested as to who the new minister is to be, as it is generally understood he is to be transferred to another conference. Rev. G. W. Harrington, who has been stationed here for the last year, is highly esteemed by all who know him, and his removal from the city should it occur will be regretted by our [illegible] generally, to whom he and his family have become greatly endeared.

The removal or non-removal of the Salem postoffice is now creating considerable undercurrent talk among our business men. The bids for its furnishing and location will be opened on the 12th inst. There apparently will be but two bidders for the location, viz. the owners of the building where it is now located and Messrs. Willis & Chamberlin, who have recently become the purchasers of what is familiarly known as Reed's opera house block, and who will make an effort to have it removed to that point. The result is looked forward to with interest, and the public will probably be benefited in either case, as the chances for new fixtures through out are very favorable indeed.

NEW ROAD TO PUGET SOUND

A Company Incorporated that Invites the St. Paul or Northwestern and Boston to Take a Hand.

Boston Advertiser

The Advertiser has received an unusually glowing prospectus from Washington territory. It invites the particular attention of the solid men of Boston, who are evidently supposed not to have put their last shekels into roads that now span the continent. And we are assured that this invitation to travel over moderate grades, toured with the hand monsoons from the Orient, offers a tempting inducement to the managers of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and the Chicago and Northwestern and Sioux City railroads now pushing in the direction of the setting sun. There can be little doubt, says the recent pool meeting in Chicago that the hand monsoons of the Orient will be very grateful to the fevered brow of one of the roads named and perhaps it is the duty of Boston as a sanitary precaution to help the ache and the remedy to connect. The route proposed is through the Loto pass crossing the Snake and Columbia rivers running along the Yakima, Snoqualmie and Snohomish rivers to the harbor of Tulalip on Puget sound. There is poetry in these names and there is eloquence in the description of the latent resources of the route. Listen: The broad basin of the Columbia blooming in nutritious bunch grass affords genial range to stock. Cattle and sheep thrive and develop thick heavy hides and fine wool constitute a rich factor in the product of that region. Inexhaustible seams of coal and iron alternate in the mountain pass. The largest hop ranch in America blooms on the Snoqualmie prairie, the successful cultivation of which warrants the extension of hop culture along this valley even to the tide land. A grove of stately timber thrives from Thorp's to the Sound. Douglass pine and tall firs with towering cedars more majestic than the historic trees in the Lebanon beckon the traveler on his way. The romantic harbor of Tulalip affords a secure haven to the fishermen and an acceptable depot for curing and marketing fish, oil, peltry and kindred products of the Sound. The truly Christianized Indians are jubilant at the brilliant prospect of material development, and they will gladly welcome the railroad to their harbor and aid the enterprise with liberal grants of land. There is more of the same sort, but if Boston don't tumble to this we fear that words will be wasted on this stony hearted town.

THE GOLDEN RULE

[illegible] 8

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Infidels claim that the golden rule [illegible] "Do unto others whatsoever you would have them do unto you," which is commonly attributed to Christ, was originally written by Confucius; further that the saying was inscribed [illegible] of Greece [illegible] of years before Christ's advent. Will you please state whether there is any historical warrant for this claim.

Notice of Removal.

The loan office of Uncle Myers, formerly at 181 First st., has removed to 13 Alder st., near First. On account of the prevailing hard times, large quantities of valuable goods have accumulated, consisting of solid gold Edward stem-winding watches. Also solid gold Elgin, P. S. Bartlett, Elgin, Springfield, E. W. Raymond, and ladies' gold Swiss stem-winders. As money is scarce, these goods can be bought at 50 cents on the dollar. At the great Oregon money lender's, Uncle Myers, 13 Alder st., near First.

CORRECTION

SILETZ AGENCY, Aug. 29.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your daily of one day last week occurs a statement to the effect that I have been appointed Indian agent to take the place of Hon. F. M. Wadsworth at the Siletz reservation. I have only been chosen by Mr. Wadsworth to the position of superintendent of instruction on the said reservation under him as agent. Mr. Wadsworth has had no thought of resigning his position, and the mistaken statement has caused him a considerable amount of trouble. Please insert this correction and oblige yours respectfully,

J. S. McCAIN.

"[illegible]"

I have this day made an examination and analysis of a sample taken by me from an unbroken original package of "Royal Baking Powder" and marked "Absolutely Pure." I find the sample to contain

*TARTRATE OF LIME	4.52 per ct.
CARBONATE OF AMMONIA	6 10 per ct.

The claim therefore that the Royal is made from absolutely pure materials is false, while the adulteration of the baking powder with the objectional and disgusting drug—Ammonia—is nothing [illegible] nothing less than a crime against the public health. It deserves the severest condemnation and should be brought to the attention of physicians and boards of health throughout the country.

JAS. F. BABCOCK,

Analytical and Consulting Chemist and State Assayer, late Professor of Chemistry in Boston University and Massachusetts College (Pharmacy), Boston, June 27, 1884.

The lime found by Professor Babcock in the Royal Powder is the lime that the Royal Baking Powder Company advertise as "a caustic so powerful that it is used by tanners to eat the hair from the hides of animals, and in dissecting rooms to quickly rot the flesh from the bones of dead subjects."

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

does not contain and does not contaminate food articles in which it is used with the poisonous "Ammonia," which enters into the composition of the "Royal."

1st. Place a can of "Royal" top down on a hot stove until heated. Remove the cover and smell—Ammonia—Hartshorn.

2d. Place two teaspoonfuls of "Royal Powder" in two tablespoonfuls boiling water, stir, and when cold smell an unspeakable odor—proving the source of Ammonia.

ORIGIN OF AMMONIA.

It was probably originally prepared from putrid urine.—United States Dispensatory page 107.

WEDNESDAY MORNING SEPT. 3, 1884

THE GENERAL OUTLOOK.

The Campaign as Viewed Throughout the Eastern States.

New York Special to St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

The organs of the different parties and sections of parties have prepared the way for the organized work that will be entered upon in the east early in September. It is probable that every journal that will concern itself in the campaign has found its level. The flop of the Independent and some other of the religious papers that started out for Cleveland surprises no one. They are sustained by republicans, as the great body of periodical literature outside of the daily newspapers is sustained by republicans. The cash drawer controls the editorial room, and the cash drawers of these flopping weeklies begun to feel the disagreeable effects of the raid which the editors are making on the republican ticket. Editor Ward, of the Independent, would have continued on the Cleveland track if Proprietor Bowen had not seen the danger signal and turned the switch in time to escape financial derailment. There will be no turning back of the switch in case of the Independent, nor in any other case of these religious papers that have left Cleveland. The worldly papers will keep on as they are going. It is a hard road they are traveling, but they can better endure financial hardships than their religious contemporaries can.

THE "TIMES" AND "HARPER'S WEEKLY"

are manifestly great sufferers by the course they have taken. They had their existence in the republican party and they have found that that party is still an entity. The Evening Post more than any other New York paper, except the Herald, had lodgment in both parties. It is probably the least affected of any of the papers that are trying to defeat Blaine. On the democratic side the Sun and Star are the most conspicuous kickers at the nominee of their party, but each of them is sustained in the course it is pursuing. The Sun always had as many republican as democratic readers. It has no doubt made up for all its democratic losses by an increased number of republican readers. The Star is a perfectly trustworthy key to the position of Tammany hall. It is John Kelly's organ. Both cash box and editorial desk are now, as always, in harmony with that boss's views. The Star is bitterly and irreconcilably opposed to Cleveland. Whoever in this state or any other state says that Tammany will pull straight when the rub comes deceives himself. Tammany hall as a voting force will not aid in the election of the democratic ticket. The committee on organization, which is to the general organization what the steam chest is to the boiler, will proudly "endorse" the ticket, and there the work will end. If it were intended to do effective work Mr. Kelly, as engineer, would open the throttle and let the power of the general organization loose. If any one were found lagging behind or sulking the committee on discipline would simply take him in hand, and either see that he attended to business or cast him out altogether. Nothing of this kind will be done this year. Every one will be permitted to vote as he likes, and all will understand by the relaxation of discipline that Mr. Kelly would like to have Mr. Cleveland defeated. This view of

is not guesswork, nor is it an inference from the position of the Star, however legitimate such an inference would be. With Tammany's from fifty to seventy-five thousand votes lost to Cleveland, it is important to the governor's supporters to make no miscalculation respecting the aid he is to receive in this state from the independents. They took their choice at Chicago between Tammany and the independents; reference being had, of course, to republican independents. The latter are of two classes—those who by going into an organization become independents only in name, and those who by abstaining from organization are the real independents of the campaign. The former are an ascertainable quantity, and therefore to be feared only in proportion to the number of noses they can show up. The latter—the real independents—constitute the only danger in Blaine's way. They consist of the men who are saying nothing. They are invited to attend the meetings of the alleged independents, but they do not attend. They read the Times one day and the Tribune the next, or both on the same day. They like the literature of the Evening Post's Blainephobia; they study the cartoons as critics of the art that is in them, and coldly analyze the mental processes by which Keppler and Hamilton, Gillam and Nast are able to arrive at their grotesque pictorial conclusions. They either contribute nothing to the campaign funds or chip a nickel into every hat that is passed. When the band plays for the mass meetings they go to the theater or run over to Coney island for an evening of sea air. You cannot provoke them to political discussion, nor anger them by assailing any one of the candidates. They see something funny in Beecher's struggle with his conscience over the question of supporting Cleveland, and skip the long editorials on

BLAINE'S RAILROAD SPECULATIONS.

These are the independents to whom the republican campaigners will address their efforts to little effect. No one knows how many of them there are, nor will anyone know till the votes are counted, and then an estimate may be made. The alleged independents are not a formidable obstacle in the way. They have not increased in number since they stood up and were counted some weeks ago. They will not be a drop in the bucket. They are not likely to increase nor diminish. So far as this state is concerned they are found only in the metropolitan district—New York, Brooklyn, over on the eastern border of New Jersey, and up the Hudson as far as Yonkers. In the rural districts the only independents to be considered at all are the unorganized, unheard-from sort. Every indication is that the party is, outside of the metropolitan district, in the most compact form it has been in since Grant's first election. The organized workers of the campaign now acting in this state find, therefore, about this situation: The republican party outside of New York and Brooklyn practically solid for Blaine, the campaigners enthusiastic and confident, with the mass of voters ready to march at the word of command; the organized independents in New York and Brooklyn not sufficiently numerous to be of serious account; the unorganized independents whether at the mouth of the Hudson or elsewhere, doing their own thinking and numerically unascertainable; the democratic machine in good working order, the Bourbons loyal to Governor Cleveland—partly because they believe in the man, partly because they want to come into power under the lead of any man, and partly because it is their habit to vote the party ticket without reasoning why; Tammany with its organization nominally Cleveland, in order to keep the record straight, but sure to cast their votes for Butler or Blaine, or for both, as may be indicated by the boss; and, with a formidable array of workingmen and

IRISH-AMERICANS FOR BLAINE.

If these lines of action are maintained to the end, as they are likely to be unless something not now discernible on the horizon appears, it is extremely difficult to see how Governor Cleveland is to secure the support of New York state in the electoral college. The Butler factor is not yet defined. Tammany men are using the general's name as a foil, but it is believed by many good observers that the mass of Kelly's followers will quietly vote for the Blaine electors. In the country, the old allies of Tammany are in many places outspoken for Blaine. The city of Troy is one of Tammany's strongholds in the country, and there that element is doing systematic campaigning for the republican ticket. The president of the common council, Samuel Morris, said to the writer a few days ago:

The city of Troy will give Blaine a majority. No local influence can stop the movement. We have gone into this thing deliberately. We have burned our bridges behind us, because we shall have no more use for them. The Irish-Americans of my city will not cross back into the old democratic party.

Thomas F. Grady threw off all allegiance to the Manning machine when he resigned from the state committee. He is expected to go on the stump for Butler.

CLEVELAND AND THE FARMERS.

The State Farmers' Alliance of New York Denounce the Democratic Candidate.

To the Farmers of the State of New York: Two years ago Mr. Cleveland was chosen governor by a majority of 192,000 votes. A considerable part of this majority came from the support given him by large numbers of farmers who relied on his pledges of fidelity to the principles avowed in the democratic platform of 1882. For the first time since the days of Silas Wright the democratic party in that year had a majority of votes in the agricultural counties and towns in this state.

Mr. Cleveland is now a candidate for the presidency. It is, therefore, proper that his course as a governor be reviewed in the light of facts, that the people may judge how far he has fulfilled his pledges and what is his fitness for the higher office to which he aspires.

It becomes our painful duty to denounce Mr. Cleveland's candidacy as unworthy the support of farmers and the great body of independent voters who elected him two years ago. He has violated positive pledges of fidelity to the people's interests. In selecting two of the railroad commissioners, whose duties are to guard the interests of the people, he chose men

IDENTIFIED WITH RAILWAY CORPORATIONS.

He appointed a commissioner of public works who is running the Erie canal in the interest of railroads, letting it get so out of repair that if the present policy is continued it is only a question of time when the Erie canal must be abandoned. So far as he could by his appointment, Gov. Cleveland has neutralized the popular will for making and keeping the Erie canal as a free public highway, which was shown at the election by a much larger majority for free canals than Gov. Cleveland himself received. This is a matter in which the farmers of the western states are interested equally with the farmers of New York. In making a board of state assessors Governor Cleveland left the great agricultural interests unrepresented, though this is a subject of especial importance to farmers, who are obliged to bear an unequal proportion of the burdens of taxation. Governor Cleveland did this in disregard of the request for the appointment of a farmer, who, by thought and study on economic questions, was especially fitted for this position, and who was recommended by all the farmers' organizations in this state.

Governor Cleveland has identified himself and his candidacy

WITH CORPORATE MONOPOLIES.

In his veto of the 5-cent fare bill for the New York elevated railroads, in defiance of the decisions of our highest courts, he avowed the extraordinary doctrine that the legislature, in granting a franchise to railroad corporations, exhausts its powers; that it relinquishes the sovereignty of the people and makes a contract which no future legislature can change.

If Governor Cleveland's veto of this bill is sound law, the people of this state and of the United States have no rights which the corporations they have created are bound to respect. This veto marks Mr. Cleveland as preeminently the candidate of the monopolists in this country. It is from railroad corporations, Standard Oil Company and other monopolies that the money is to come which is to conduct his canvass. It is important that the mass of citizens who intend to preserve their liberties shall use every honorable means to insure his defeat.

This is not a party question, and we do not appeal as partisans for any candidate. Two of the members of

OUR COMMITTEE ARE DEMOCRATS.

And none of them voted for Governor Cleveland's leading opponent two years ago. None of them can or will vote for him as president, and in this we fairly represent the feelings of the great majority of the farmers of the different parts of this state. It is certain that this opposition to Mr. Cleveland for president will extend to the farmers of other states when the facts of his record are fairly presented.

The nomination of Mr. Cleveland makes an issue, which as a political question, subordinates all others. It is whether the sovereignty of the people shall be overshadowed by the corporations which they create. It is impossible to doubt that the result of such an issue will be an overwhelming defeat.

If Governor Cleveland took this position ignorantly, the fact will not and should not help his candidacy. The people of this country do not want a man as president who could, even through ignorance, make a mistake of this character. But any one who closely watched the Chicago convention could not fail to see in the

COMBINATION OF STANDARD OIL

And other monopoly influences against such reputable democrats as Judge Thurman, the signs that the ruling forces in the convention worked with definite aim.

Thurman, Bayard, Hendricks, and other lifelong democrats and representatives of popular rights were set aside to make way for this new man, of whom nothing was known outside of the state, except that he carried New York, with republican help, by nearly 200,000 majority, and of whom in this state we know nothing politically, except that his course as governor has falsified all the pledges by which his factitious majority of two years ago was secured.

We have no recommendations to make with regard to candidates other than that every honorable means be used to make Mr. Cleveland's defeat certain and overwhelming. This, we do not doubt, will be done. This will be a result which will have a most wholesome effect on the political future of our country.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

TUESDAY, Sept. 2.

Cool and cloudy weather, with an occasional light shower, rules. There yet remains some harvesting to be done, which, under present weather, must drag. The markets are very quiet, prices ruling steadily low.

Overland receipts include 774 kgs nails, 200 cs coal oil, 237 pkgs tobacco, 20 cs canned goods, 15 cs extract, 200 cs lard, 3 ctes 12 tcs hams, 59 cs bacon, 360 tubs, 10 pails 2 bxs butter.

Imports into Astoria by steamer for August included 125 sks barley, 45 sks beans, 40 cs bak powder, 7 cs bacon, 13 cs cheese, 15 cs cod, 20 cs 29 kgs 2 hf 3 bbls coffee, 22 cs cigars, 21 cs candles, 53 cs corn beef, 6 cs chocolate, 35 pkgs candy, 36 pkgs crackers, 173 cs canned goods, 5 bxs dried fruit, 2 cs extract, 41 cs rye flour, 45 sks feed, 1252 bxs fruit, 436 sks ground barley, 1 cs 10 bbls 12 tcs hams, 7 kgs herring, 15 cs honey, 36 cs lard, 22 sks middlings, 31 cs lemons, 13 kits 1 hf mackerel, 11 tins matches, 15 sks nuts, 174 kgs 2 bxs nails, 30 sks onions, 60 bxs oranges, 14 cs paste, 1 hf 2 bbls 3 cs pickles, 7 bxs 2 bbls prunes, 20 sks potatoes, 46 pkgs raisins, 10 cls rope, 53 sks 570 mats rice, 10 cs 3 bgs sauce, 5 cs starch, 3 sks seed, 493 bxs soap, 10 cs sardines, 574 sks 15 bbls salt, 6 cs 17 kgs 1 bbl syrup, 223 hf 75 bbls 2 cs 21 sks sugar, 42 pkgs tea, 32 pkgs tobacco, 307 bxs tin, 3 bbls vinegar, 33 cs wash powder.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 1190 ctls wheat, 612 bbls flour, 8 ctls millstuff, 21 sks potatoes, 37,321 lbs wool, 1635 lbs hides, 28 cs eggs, 453 bxs fruit, 2 pkgs butter, 60 bls hay. Also 3610 ctls wheat, 200 bbls flour, 111 ctls millstuff, 12,010 lbs wool, 1067 lbs hides from the eastern section.

Receipts by leading transportation lines for August aggregated 37,186 ctls wheat, 15,441 bbls flour, 7737 ctls oats, 534 ctls barley, 4436 ctls bran, 1637 ctls millstuff, 424 sks potatoes, 430 bls hay, 912,137 lbs wool, 60,228 lbs hides, 1,705 cs eggs, 5428 bxs fruit, 397 bbls lime, 4203 lbs hops.

SALMON SHIPMENTS—Per ship Alameda for Liverpool: Megler 5000; Astoria Pkg Co 1500; Cutting 2000; Cook 2000; Hanthorn 6250; Ocean Canning Co 5000; Hapgood 2000; Warren 3000; Thistle brand 1500; Columbia Canning Co 3000; Williams 1500; Union Pkg Co 2000; Fisherman's Pkg Co 1500; Pillar Rock 2000; W. Hume 6036. Total, 46,806 cases.

Per str Columbia to San Francisco: Astoria Pkg Co 325; Anglo-American 100; Columbia Can Co 50; G. W. Hume 200; Ocean Can Co 200; Point Adams 1175; Thompson & Knowles 52; West Coast 1300; Warren 325; Washington Pkg Co 100. Total, 4527 cases.

FREIGHTS—Owners continue to ask well up for iron at hand, while shippers' views appear to be fully 5s below asking rates. Nothing is being done.

WHEAT—Foreign markets note continued steadiness, while American markets are without new features. Private cables report 34s 6d possible for Walla Walla, prompt shipment. This is fully $1 50 per ton less than the grade ever sold for. Shippers here do not appear to be moved by present advices, while holders have been furnished an opportunity of declaring their position strengthened. Quotations cannot yet be given except as nominal, but there is talk of $1 10@1 12 for valley, and $1 05@1 10 for Walla Walla being possible. Shippers still name 5c less. Receipts at Portland for August consisted of 27,813 ctls valley and 39,377 ctls Walla Walla, against 7,735 ctls valley and 157,748 ctls Walla Walla for the corresponding month last year.

The Minneapolis Miller of August 27 says: The leading feature on 'change the past week has been the disappearance of the bearish feeling which prevailed before the recent heavy rains. Dealers who went out or sent representatives through the Minneapolis wheat belt report large quantities of grain damaged seriously, and it is significant that the worst reports came from some points where the crop of hard fife wheat was the best. All wheat in shock on low lands last week, and the quantity was large, was flooded and much of it stood for days under water. Grain in stack was not injured, and that in shock on high lands was but little damaged. The immediate effect of these reports on the market was to harden and advance prices of old hard wheat, the net gain for the week being 2c per bushel on No. 1 hard, of which the supply is believed to be light.

FLOUR—Receipts of flour for August were 10,331 bbls valley and 4911 bbls Walla Walla, against 10,784 bbls valley and 2761 bbls Walla Walla for the same month last year. The Alameda carried 7500 qr 7610 hf sks flour, or 5755 bbls from the Portland Flouring Mills Co. and Oregon City Mills Co.

OATS—None offering on the spot and an advance on 30c could be had in a small way.

ONIONS—California selling at 1@1¼c.

PROVISIONS—New stocks of eastern in. Values are firm and unchanged.

GREEN FRUIT—Apples, pears and peaches plentiful. Apples bring 30@35c; pears, 35@50c; peaches, 50@75c, with some good local in. Tomatoes plentiful at about 2c. Melons firm at $3 50, but cool weather lessens sales.

BUTTER—A large consignment of eastern, including a lot of factory, came in to-day. It is held at about the prices had for good local, and will probably move off freely, as no California can be sold here. Quote best grades 25@37½c.

EGGS—Market quiet at 22½c.

CHICKENS—Old, $5@6; young, $2 50@3. An even market is had.

SHIPPING NOTES.

[illegible]

Is not always enjoyed by those who seem to possess it. The taint of corrupted blood may be secretly undermining the constitution. In time, the poison will certainly show its effects, and with all the more virulence the longer it has been allowed to permeate the system. Each pimple, sty, boil, skin disorder and sense of unnatural lassitude, or languor, is one of Nature's warnings of the consequences of neglect.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only remedy that can be relied upon, in all cases, to eradicate the taint of hereditary disease and the special corruptions of the blood. It is the only alterative that is sufficiently powerful to thoroughly cleanse the system of Scrofulous and Mercurial impurities and the pollution of Contagious Diseases. It also neutralizes the poisons left by Diphtheria and Scarlet Fever, and enables rapid recuperation from the enfeeblement and debility caused by these diseases.

Myriads of Cures

Achieved by AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, in the past forty years, are attested, and there is no blood disease, at all possible of cure, that will not yield to it. Whatever the ailments of this class, and wherever found, from the scurvy of the Arctic circle to the "veldt-sores" of South Africa, this remedy has afforded health to the sufferers by whom it was employed. Druggists everywhere can cite numerous cases, within their personal knowledge, of remarkable cures wrought by it, where all other treatment had been unavailing. People will do well to

Trust Nothing Else

than AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Numerous crude mixtures are offered to the public as "blood purifiers," which only allure the patient with the pretense of many cheap doses, and with which it is folly to experiment while disease is steadily becoming more deep-seated and difficult of cure. Some of these mixtures do much lasting harm. Bear in mind that the only medicine that can radically purify the vitiated blood is

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

EPPS'S COCOA.
BREAKFAST.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us, ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette.
